IAA Conference 2023

500+ speakers

- › The top-class conference is part of the IAA SUMMIT and can thus be accessed by every SUMMIT ticket holder. It is one of the most relevant industry conferences in the world. In 2023, well over 500 opinion leaders (amongst them over 70 CEOs) from small and large companies across various industries, as well as from politics, society and science, enriched IAA MOBILITY.

21,000+ conference visitors

- › Over 21,000 international visitors from more than 100 countries attended the stages of the IAA Conference as visitors. In doing so, 92% of the professional visitors rated the quality of the speakers, the sessions, and the thematic selection extremely positively.

5 stages

- › Forward-facing key topics were discussed on five major conference stages located between the exhibitor booths at the IAA Summit. These included electromobility and charging, cycling and micromobility, autonomous driving, urban and rural mobility, as well as the advancing integration of connectivity and generative AI.

» IAA MOBILITY 2023 Speakers IAA Conference 2023

The first mobility revolution started in Munich 135 years ago. And the second revolution – the one towards climate-friendly mobility – is also at home here at IAA MOBILITY.

Olaf Scholz – Chancellor of the Federal Republic of Germany (on September 5, 2023)

Talking to each other and finding innovative solutions together is more important than ever in order to shape the sustainable mobility of tomorrow. The IAA Conference 2023 has succeeded in connecting the various players in the mobility industry and providing impetus for critical debate and open exchange.

Dr. Sandra Wolf – CEO Riese & Müller

Make a difference — be part of the IAA Conference 2025

The IAA Conference is the world's leading decision-maker conference, connecting mobility and tech topics.

Reach your target audience directly

- › The IAA Conference attracts a top-notch audience from across the mobility industry — from international decision-makers and executives to policymakers and industry experts. By participating as a sponsor or speaker, you reach exactly the people who matter most to your business.

Boost your brand awareness and maximize your reach

- › Through sponsorship or a speaking slot, position your company as leading player in the industry. Make use of the stages of the IAA Conference to present your brand and make a lasting impression on the attendees. Visibility is the key to success and the IAA Conference offers you the ideal platform for it, presenting the most innovative content around mobility and tech.

Establish yourself as a thought leader

- › As a speaker at the IAA Conference, you have the chance to present your expertise and vision to an international audience. Set trends, share your insights, and actively shape the future of the mobility industry. Your voice matters and it will be heard at the IAA Conference.
